Canadian Housing Statistics

Variable Name	Description	Unit	Weight Variable
	Geography
POSTCODE	6-Digit Postal Code	Character
	Market Size
PP_TOT	Total population	Count
PP15_	Total population of age 15+ years old	Count
PP65_	Total population of age 65+ years old	Count
HH_TOT	Number of households	Count
DW_TOT	Total number of occupied private dwellings	Count
	Dwelling Value
	Average value of dwelling $: Refers to the dollar amount expected by the owner if the dwelling were to be sold. It is the value of the entire dwelling, including the value of the land it is on and of any other structure, such as a garage, which is on the property. If the dwelling is located in a building which contains several dwellings, or a combination of residential and business premises, all of which the household owns, the value is estimated as a portion of the market value that applies only to the dwelling in which the household resides. We used the following additional data sources to update the self-reported dwelling value in the latest Census which is mostly in line with the value in property tax assessment: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>1) Quarterly House Price Survey from Royal LePage</li> <li>2) Property Listing Data from Cleanlist</li> <li>3) Monthly housing statistics from the Canadian Real Estate Association.</li> </ol>

	Average number of Bedrooms: Bedrooms refer to rooms in a private dwelling that are designed mainly for sleeping purposes even if they are now used for other purposes, such as guest rooms and television rooms. Also included are rooms used as bedrooms now, even if they were not originally built as bedrooms, such as bedrooms in a finished basement. Bedrooms exclude rooms designed for another use during the day such as dining rooms and living rooms even if they may be used for sleeping purposes at night. By definition, one-room private dwellings such as studio apartments have zero bedrooms.
DW_BRM0		Average	DW_TOT
	Average number of rooms per dwelling. A room is an enclosed area within a dwelling which is finished and suitable for year-round living. Includes the kitchen, bedrooms, and finished
